"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

Isabelle McGuire

original

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.

"GOOD OLD GUBER PEAS"

Sung at Hospital Christmas Party at Dr. Draper's
Home December 21, 1956
Bell McGuire and Florence Carlile

Now Dr. Draper's busy, it keeps him on the run
To take care of his patients, it really makes him hum.
Arlene is his assistant, she tries so hard to please,
She gets all her energy from eating Guber Peas.

Peas, peas, good old Guber peas.
Goodness, how delicious, good old Guber peas.

Dr. Green is handsome, he is a ladies's man.
He loves to eat his cookies, just every time he can.
But his wife counts his calories, so he tries her to please,
And see his many patients and perscribe Guber peas.

Thelma does the cooking, so does Ethel too
Ruby's in the laundry washing off the goo.
Connie brings the trays up, and what do you think she sees?
There is Merle and Frances eating Guber peas.

Sina's always rushing, she hardly stops to eat.
Betty, Maud, and Emily are always on their feet.
Bernice comes from Midway, and what do you think she sees?
There is Beth and Golda eating Guber peas.

Beverly keeps busy working on the books.
Arlene is always smiling, she is thinking of her looks.
Gay is never idle, she can work with ease.
She calls on Florence Nielson and feeds her Guber peas.

Niff he tends the furnace, he tends it night and day.
He has no time for fooling, he is really making hay.
Luella sweeps the floors up, who scrubs them on her knees,
She comes in every morning eating Guber peas.

Now Bert comes in a rushing, there's been an accident.
He grabs up the stretchers and to the scene he went.
He took LeOra with him, and what do you think he sees?
There is Faye and Leah, eating Guber peas.

Now Helen Draper's little, so's Virginia Green.
They surely watch their waist lines, they find it quite supreme.
We all come to the party, and we can eat with ease.
For what do you think they are serving!!? Good old Guber peas.

I think this son has lasted almost long enough
The subject's interesting but the rhyms are getting tough.
And when this night is over, I'll do just as I please
I'll sit around on midnights and pass out Guber peas.

Chorus after each verse.
Peas, peas, good Old Guber peas,
Goodness, how delicious, Good old Guber peas.